

Copyright and Licensing

The accepted papers for publication in Thermal Spray Bulletin are subject to Germany's copyright law (Urheberrechtsgesetz). All manuscripts, revisions, drafts, and galleys remain the intellectual property of the author(s). Author(s) fully retain the copyright to their work according to the Germany's copyright law. Copyright cannot be transferred. Publishing licenses are granted for a year after publication to the publisher and cannot be revoked. Edited and typeset articles can be used by the author for personal use only (e. g. sharing within their peers). Publishing or posting of said articles on public platforms or unauthorized reprints may be a violation of Germany's copyright law and licensing fees may apply.
